

QUINTERO FAMILY LAW SERVICES

We have to be proficient not only in family law, but in related areas like tax, corporate and bankruptcy law, too.

FOR THE PAST 12 YEARS, SALOMON Quintero has practiced family law exclusively, handling everything from major asset and complex divorce litigation, including contested business valuations, deferred compensation and commingled asset cases, to child custody, visitation, support and domestic violence issues.

VARIETY OF SKILLS "Since every case is different, it's good to have a broad background," says Quintero, who in 35 years as a lawyer has extensive jury trial experience including real estate, personal injury and business cases. "It's also important to have a good grasp of accounting because the financial aspects of family law require it," he says.

A HELPING HAND In matters of child custody, ushering clients through the painful course of divorce requires Quintero and associates to wear the hat not only of lawyer, but of life coach, too. Helping clients face the changes ahead and make decisions that will impact their children, livelihood, income and lifestyle constitutes an important part of their role. "I like the human contact, the ability to counsel and guide clients. It's something I've always enjoyed," he says.

DIVERSITY Quintero Family Law Services assists a varied client base. Between Quintero and associates Amy Yimei Gu and Julie Zhalkovsky, the trio can serve clients in Spanish, Mandarin, Cantonese, Shanghainese and Russian.

QUINTERO FAMILY LAW SERVICES
601 Brewster Ave., Redwood City, CA 94063
PH: (650) 365-5145 • FX: (650) 365-6399
dsol.com